GENERAL INFORMATION.

EXAMINATIONS, ETC.

All students before being ranked in the "Junior Year Preparatory" [see Course of Study] must be at least twelve years of age, and have a knowledge of the primary branches, including orthography, reading in the ordinary school book, intellectual and practical arithmetic, descriptive geography, U. S. history, and grammar through etymology. Classes are regularly formed in the studies just named for those needing elementary drill to prepare them for the Preparatory Course proper. Students, without examination, can enter these elementary classes and prepare themselves for promotion by examination.

ADMISSION AS FRESHMEN.—Candidates for admission to Freshman class must be at least fourteen years of age, and be examined in all the studies of the Preparatory course, or their equivalent. Candidates for advanced standing must pass examination in all studies of the course preceding, and be graded according to the judgment of the Faculty.

A student may be ranked provisionally as Freshman who is conditioned in two studies, each of a single term, but unless the conditions are removed by an examination in the two studies during the Freshman year, he shall not be advanced to Sophomore standing.

ADVANCED STANDING.—Candidates for advanced standing must be examined in all the studies of the course preceding or their equivalent—but may be provisionally ranked in any under-graduate class (Sophomore, Junior or Senior) provided they lack only two studies (each of a single term), but shall not be advanced to the next year till they pass an examination in the two conditioned studies. No promotion to an advanced class shall be recognized as valid without the previous announcement of the same by the Secretary of Faculty or the President.

REQUIRED GRADE.—All standing is given in per cent. The term grade is determined by multiplying the term standing by two, adding the examination standing and dividing the sum by three. If the result shall fall below 65 the student shall be counted as having failed. If, however, upon re-examination he can make the required grade, by the above rule, he shall be entitled to the same.

TIME OF EXAMINATIONS.—The regular time of examination is at the close of each term. For the convenience of those failing at the regular examinations, and for others, a Supplemental Examination is held the first Friday in each term.

APPLICATIONS FOR EXAMINATIONS.—All applications for examinations must be sent by non-enrolled candidates with a fee of $1.00 to the Secretary of Faculty, five days before the time of examination. En-called students desiring supplemental examinations must apply five days before time of examination. Students absent from a regular examination on account of sickness or other necessary cause, shall pay only half rules for supplementary examinations. Regular examinations are free to enrolled students. For supplemental examinations, a fee of one dollar is charged.

ABSENCE FROM EXAMINATIONS.—Any student wilfully absenting himself from the regular examination, if not an under-graduate, shall receive no demerits, and if an under-graduate, he shall be marked zero for his examination and be required to take a supplemental examination the next term of his attendance.

EXCUSED FROM EXAMINATIONS.—A student having the required grade in any branch, or proposing to pursue the same study again may be excused from examination by the teacher of the class with the approval of the President.

WRITTEN EXAMINATIONS.—All examinations, so far as the subject admits, must be written. An examination to be valid must be written in presence of a professor of Heddling College or an Examiner appointed by the Faculty. Any candidate using any dishonest means to answer any question shall be marked zero in that study, and any candidate helping or attempting to help another in examination, shall be marked zero in the study in which he is under examination at the time of the offense; or if not undergoing an examination at the time he shall receive ten demerits.

CERTIFICATES OF STANDING.—Students are exempted from examination in studies covered by accepted certificates of standing from other educational institutions and officers.

STANDING TRANSMITTED.—The standing of all students who have been examined will be transmitted on the Institute form, signed by the Secretary, and will be furnished to parents or guardians on application.

STANDING RECORDED.—The standing of all students who have been examined will be reported in the Faculty meeting and will be recorded by the Secretary's books, and the standing of all students who have made the required minimum (60 per cent.) will be recorded by the Secretary in the Heddling College Record. Standings received by certificate will be recorded by the Secretary after they have been approved by the Faculty.

STANDING FOR PRIZES OR MEDALS.—No candidate shall be eligible to win a prize or medal who has not made an average of at least 80 per cent.

AVERAGE EXAMINER.—The examination shall be based on the number of pages or chapters of text-book prescribed in the Curriculum, published in the Catalogue of Heddling College.

NON-RESIDENT CANDIDATES not less than 28 years of age, and otherwise qualified, may be admitted to a final examination for the Degree of A. B., Ph. B., or B. S.

ELECTIVE STUDIES.

Ladies or gentlemen who do not wish to become candidates for a degree, may be admitted to any regular classes, provided their proficiency is such as not to embarrass the progress of such classes.

REGISTRATION, ETC.

In all cases, satisfactory testimonials of good character may be required. A certificate of honorable dismissal will be required of students coming from other colleges. Before admission to recitation, the student shall satisfactorily arrange his tuition bill to the close of the term, with the Financial Secretary. All candidates for admission after the term opens will first call at the President's office, in the college, and register.

THE CURRICULUM

embraces four carefully arranged Courses of Study, viz: The Normal, Scientific, Latin Scientific and the Classical. BY CAREFUL COMPARISON, IT IS FOUND THAT OUR REQUIREMENTS FOR GRADUATION ARE EQUAL TO THOSE OF OTHER FIRST-CLASS COLLEGES OF THE STATE.

DEGREES.

On the completion of any of the Courses of Study, and a satisfactory examination in the same, the following Degrees will be conferred: For the Classical, Bachelor of Arts; for the Latin Scientific, Bachelor of Philosophy; for the Scientific, Bachelor of Science; for the Normal, Bachelor of Pedagogy. After three years in honorable employment and general reading, the following degrees in course will be conferred: Master of Arts, Master of Philosophy, and Master in Science. After three years of successful work in teaching, the Master of Pedagogy will be conferred.

The following resolution has been adopted by the Faculty and Trustees:

RESOLVED, That all applicants for Masters' degrees be required to forward their application to the president of the Faculty, accompanied by the requisite fee (five dollars) at least six weeks before Commencement.

THE MENTAL AND MORAL SCIENCES.

together with Theology, Political Economy, Civil Government and Logic are taught in a thorough and comprehensive manner. Text-books are used, courses of selected reading are urged upon the student's attention, and class room discussions are so conducted as to apply the abstract principles of philosophy to the problems of every-day life and practice.

MATHEMATICAL DEPARTMENT.

The branches of mathematics laid down in the respective courses have in view a proper and harmonious development of the reasoning powers. For extent and thoroughness, our courses compare favorably with those of similar institutions.

THE NATURAL SCIENCES

occupy considerable prominence in our courses of study. Geology, Zoology, Chemistry, Physics, Mineralogy and Botany are so taught that they are looked upon by the students not as mere facts and theories, but as related to dependent truths that constitute parts of the marvellous and harmonious whole. Experiments are performed before the class, and specimens from the field and cabinet exhibited, with a view of combining the practical and the theoretical. Students will be expected to become familiar with nature itself, and make original investigations and collections in the various branches of science.

The work of the professor in Physiology will be supplemented by lectures given by Dr. M. Reece on Anatomy and Hygiene.

Descriptive Astronomy is illustrated with a large number of astronomical diagrams.

Every student in Botany is required to prepare a herbarium containing not less than fifty specimens of native plants.

Frequent dissections, for illustration, are made by the teacher and members of the class in Zoology.

Careful attention is given to the elements of chemical analysis, quantitative, and qualitative, in a well equipped work room.

Much attention is given to the collection and determination of mineral specimens, and the construction of Geological sections and maps.

MUSEUM.

The nucleus of a museum has been formed, and the specimens have been carefully classified and labeled, with the view of making the collections as valuable as possible for illustration. The Smithsonian Institute has donated a collection of fishes and marine invertebrates and others are promised. A small cabinet of three hundred specimens to illustrate Mineralogy was donated by the Geology class of 1883. Donations are invited, especially the following:

Prehistoric remains, samples of rocks, fossils, ores, vertebrate skulls, mounted birds, insects, truncheons of native trees and pressed plants to illustrate the flora of the state.

APPARATUS.

A first-class Stereopticon is used for exhibiting, with the Drummond light, photographic transparencies to represent various objects in Astronomy, Philosophy, Human Anatomy, Insect Life and Natural Scenery.

There is also included a valuable surveyor's compass with attachable telescope, the gift of the class of '81 for field work in surveying.

Students' desks are placed in the Chemical laboratory, and at these the students, under the direction of the teacher, perform Chemical and Philosophical experiments, and engage in the analysis of Minerals and Chemical substances.

Generous Alumni and friends have donated some hundreds of dollars for Chemical, Physical and Optical Apparatus which has been purchased in 1888, 1889 and 1890.

LATIN AND GREEK.

This department includes systematic instruction in the Language, Literature, History, Mythology and Archæology of Greece and Rome.

During the first year, especial attention is given to forms and the analysis of sentences. The second year is given to syntactical drill, with the object of enabling the student to enjoy the authors of the latter part of the course as works of art.

Classical Geography is taught from wall-maps during recitation.

History, Archæology and Mythology are developed by parallel courses of reading and recitation lectures.

Great attention is given to Comparative Grammar, and the influence of Latin and Greek upon English.

THE MODERN LANGUAGES.

In this department of our work the theoretical and practical methods are combined. The philological features of the German and French languages and their relations to cognate languages are traced with great care. Various practical exercises in conversation and writing, and the study of classical, scientific and artistic literature, increase the interests taken by the student, and enhance the value of the instruction imparted.

HISTORY AND ENGLISH LITERATURE.

This department includes English Language and Literature, Ancient, Mediæval and Modern History, also the History of Civilization.

Selections from leading English and American authors will be used in connection with the text-book. While due attention will always be devoted to the Facts of History, great prominence will be given to its Philosophy, and its relation to Geography, Ethnology and Philology.

ELOCUTION

is provided for in our courses of study, and students of all grades are requested to avail themselves of the facilities offered, without extra fee. Special instruction will be given at reasonable rates.

PAINTING AND FINE ARTS.

This department will be in the hands of a master. Special attention will be given to these necessary branches of culture, by an artist of high repute.

RELIGIOUS CHARACTER OF HEDDING.

Hedding College is under the control of the "CENTRAL ILLINOIS CONFERENCE" of the Methodist Episcopal Church, but is attended by students of all Christian Denominations, as there are no sectarian tests or conditions required. The moral and religious culture of the student is recognized by the authorities of the College as a matter of vital importance. While sectarianism is excluded, the Faculty earnestly strive to inculcate the principles not only of a pure morality, but also of evangelical Christianity. On all proper occasions, personal efforts are made to lead the students into a noble life, and a mature Christian character.

THE EPWORTH LEAGUE.

The HEDDING COLLEGE CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION has been abandoned and a CHAPTER of the EPWORTH LEAGUE has taken its place. The League, as a religious organization, with its several departments of work, is eminently satisfactory in character and results. The whole religious element of the college is united in this one organization, approved by the Faculty and Trustees. A daily prayer-meeting is conducted at 11:30 a. m., and such other meetings as may seem best for the promotion of the religious interests of the students without interfering with their school work. By action of the Board a commodious room with a seating capacity of 100, is placed under control of the League for religious uses. Attendance upon these religious meetings is wholly voluntary, but their bearing upon the religious character of the college is very important, and their influence upon the lives of students is very beneficial. Parents who desire to have their young people surrounded by wholesome religious influences can find no better place than Hedding College.

LIBRARIES.

1. COLLEGE LIBRARY.—This Library, free to students, contains a large number of public documents, both State and National, together with cyclopedias and a variety of well-selected volumes for general reading. We need, however, great additional outlay to make this library all that it ought to be. We invite the attention of liberal friends to this want of the college.

2. SOCIETY LIBRARIES.—Each of the two Literary Societies has a good library, to which its members have free access.

Music, Fine Arts, Book-keeping, Shorthand, Typewriting and Penmanship are extra.

TOTAL EXPENSE.—The total annual expense need not exceed $150. By self-boarding, a large additional reduction can be made.

A GENEROUS OFFER.

All graduates of high schools having the highest average standing in their classes during a course of not less than three years, will be given tuition at half rates, provided they enter college the first or second year after graduation. A certificate from the Principal or Secretary of the School Board will be required to entitle any person to the benefit of the above proposition. The same offer is extended to graduates of normal schools, provided the course pursued shall cover three years, and the school shall be approved by the Faculty as possessing sufficient merit to warrant such recognition.

When a student enters the college he must settle tuition and incidental expenses to the close of the current term.

For students entering after four weeks have passed, a deduction of one-fourth will be made; after one-half the term has expired, a deduction of one-third will be made.

Students having to leave school on account of personal sickness, or serious sickness in the family, will receive a rebate for the unexpired portion of the term.

A reduction of one-half in tuition is made for the minor sons and daughters of ministers in the regular work, and also for all licentiates for the Christian ministry.

BOARD AND ROOM RENT.

Board can be obtained in private families, with furnished rooms, at prices from $3.00 to $4.00 per week.

Good meals are given in the College Dining Hall at $1.75 per week, and furnished rooms can be obtained in the vicinity at from 50 to 75 cents per week for each person.

By renting rooms and boarding themselves, students can live comfortably at less than half the above rates. Many of our best students board themselves, and no student suffers socially because he does his own cooking.

Boarding places of the students will be subject to inspection by the President and Faculty. Parents can easily estimate from the above items the necessary expenses of pupils. Experience has abundantly shown that it is unwise for parents or guardians to place in hands of minor students means much beyond their necessary outlay. Spare money for luxuries is only a damage to the student, and an injury to the government of the school. We advise parents to require of their children a monthly itemized report of expenses.

GOVERNMENT.

The following Rules and Regulations have been adopted by the Faculty and approved by the Board of Trustees:

1. DECLARATION.—Every student when he enters the College subscribes to the following declaration: "I hereby pledge myself to observe the regulations of Hedding College while I am connected with the institution, and under no circumstances will I encourage their violation."

2. REGISTRATION.—Each student will be expected to register and obtain either a tuition receipt or a delay permit from the Financial Secretary, before he is admitted to classes. Students having registered, will be considered members of the College until their relations are regularly severed, and will be expected to be present from the beginning to the close of the term. Unexcused absences will incur demerits or suspension.

3. REFUNDING MONEY.—Students leaving College, except for severe sickness, and those making changes from one department to another, will not have money refunded.

4. ATTENDANCE.—All students are required to attend the daily recitations, the daily Chapel exercises, Church on Sabbath morning, and the College lecture in the afternoon.

5. RHETORICAL WORK.—All students—except special students in Art or Music—unless excused for cause, will be required to take part in such rhetorical exercises as the Faculty may direct.

6. EXAMINATIONS.—All examinations for rank are written. No student will be granted a special examination except by the permission of the Faculty and for urgent reasons.

7. SOCIAL PRIVILEGES.—Gentlemen are allowed to escort ladies to Societies, and other proper assemblies and entertainments; they may call upon ladies at their boarding places between the hours of 5 and 7 p. m. Gentlemen and ladies may associate in general recreations during recreation hours—before 8 a. m., between 12 m. and 1:30 p. m., and between the close of school in the afternoon and such hour as the Faculty may determine. Otherwise, they will not keep company except by special permission.

8. DEPORTMENT.—Gentlemanly and lady-like conduct is expected at all times. In Chapel, no unnecessary communications are to be made, no lessons are to be studied, or books or papers read during the devotional exercises, and each student is required to sit in his own division. In the halls, no loud talking, noise or scuffling will be permitted during recitation hours; at all times proper decorum must be observed. Each Professor will have jurisdiction in his own department to correct offenses, unless deemed flagrant, when the President or Faculty will hear the case. In the Reading Room and Ladies' Waiting Room, quiet and decorum must be observed, no papers are to be removed from the racks, or periodicals from the rooms, and no cutting or defacing reading matter will be allowed. Defacing or injuring the college buildings or property will not be allowed.

9. TOBACCO.—It will be considered a misdemeanor for any student to use tobacco within the College building or upon the College grounds.

10. STUDIES.—No student will be allowed to pursue less than three studies, or more than four, or to change his course, or drop or change any study, without the approval of the Faculty.

11. EXCUSES.—Application for excuses for absence from Church, Chapel, Recitation, or from the city, must be made to the President or Preceptress. Excuses for absence from class must be presented to the instructors in such classes before taking effect. Except in urgent cases, absences reported to the Faculty cannot be excused after one week from the time of such report.

12. ABSENCES AND DEMERITS.—For each absence from Church, Chapel or Recitation, one demerit will be charged, and for each failure in Rhetorical work three demerits. When the demerits of any student amount to five he will receive notice from the Secretary; when they amount to ten the student will receive public censure; when they reach fifteen the student will be liable to suspension. Demerit marks less than five in number are cancelled at the end of each term. Three tardy marks equal one absence. Absence from town without permission, also irregular or disorderly conduct shall count one or more demerits, at the discretion of the Faculty.

13. Students in the Music and Art departments, boarding in Abingdon, will be subject to the same rules and regulations as students in the Literary department. Resident students in the Literary and Commercial departments are subject to the same rules as others, unless excused by the President at the request of their parents.

14. No student is permitted to take lessons in studies taught in the College from any teacher not connected with the institution, without permission of the Faculty.

15. No society or organization of any kind may be formed in the College or among the students without permission of the Faculty; and all societies are under control of the Faculty

16. A student excluded from the College under its discipline, either temporarily or permanently, is debarred the privilege of the society of which he may be a member.

17. No student is permitted to join or pledge himself to a secret college fraternity. Any violation of this rule will sever his connection with the institution.

18. No society is permitted to hold a public meeting, or to appoint any public speaker except from the regular members of the society, without the approval of the Faculty.

19. Every literary exercise to be presented by a student at a public meeting of a society, or any matter to be printed for circulation, must first be submitted to the President or some member of the Faculty designated by him.

20. Drinking intoxicants, profanity, card playing, dancing, attending theatres and all similar places, which are demoralizing to student life, are prohibited.

THE PRECEPTRESS

will give careful attention to all the interests of young ladies who enter our halls. Parents and guardians may rest assured that the utmost care will be exercised over the young ladies of the institution, to secure the discipline and refinement required for moving in the best of society.

LOCATION, GROUNDS AND BUILDING.

Abingdon, where Hedding College is located, is a city of about 2,500 inhabitants, at the crossing of two great thoroughfares—the C., B. & Q. and Iowa Central railroads—and surrounded by a country unsurpassed for fertility and rural beauty. Being perfectly free from drinking saloons, billiard halls and other similar allurements to vice, Abingdon has long been regarded as an admirable location for a College. Parents and guardians will do well to note these facts. We have Prohibition in Abingdon, no liquor being sold within many miles.

The campus is delightfully located on an elevation in the north-western part of the city. The building, which is an honor to the Trustees and patrons who have erected it, furnishes ample accommodations. The grounds, during thirty-four years, have been so improved as to make a beautiful campus, shaded with forest trees and evergreens, and blooming with flowers.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

The Oliniana and the Lincolnian Societies occupy halls beautifully finished and furnished at their own expense, with valuable libraries, piano fortes, etc. Gentlemen and ladies meet together in these societies upon an equality, as in the recitation room. This arrangement has been found to be productive of a high standard of literary merit in the society exercises, and also to add to the quiet and order of the society meeting.

COMMERCIAL COLLEGE.

FACULTY:

REV. J. G. EVANS, D. D., LL. D., PRESIDENT,
Political Economy, Civil Government and Law.

REV. J. R. JAKES, D. D., PH. D.,
Lecturer on Business Ethics.

CLIFF GUILD, M. A.C.T.S.,
Book-keeping and Penmanship.

W. H. MALTBIE, A. B.,
Commercial Arithmetic.

CARRIE E. BING, B. L.,
English Analysis.

ELLA VEATCH,
Short-hand and Type-writing.

It is the aim of the Commercial Department to give a thorough and practical knowledge of Business. We have arranged a new course of study, full and complete, and equal to that of our best Business Colleges. All who can pursue the full course will find it to their advantage; yet those who desire, may take any studies in this department, in connection with studies in other departments of the College. Book keeping, by both single and double entry, is taught in its various forms, as applied to Farming, wholesale and retail Merchandising, Commission, Manufacturing, Settling of Estate, and Banking. Business forms and Correspondence are taught with care. Commercial Arithmetic has been added to the course, so that students may acquire a complete mastery of all kinds of Business Calculations.

Commercial Law, as applied to every day business, will be carefully taught. Much time and attention will be given to Penmanship. Daily class drill will be given, and satisfactory improvement is guaranteed to all who follow instructions. The improved Spencerian system is adopted as the standard. Those who desire to acquire the art of flourishing can study Ornamental Penmanship. Our Ornamental course will be complete.

COURSE OF STUDY.

The Course of Study embraces one year, but the following preliminary branches are required: Orthography, Descriptive Geography, Arithmetic, U. S. History and English Grammar.

FALL TERM.—Penmanship, Book-keeping, Civil Government, Commercial Law.

WINTER TERM.—Penmanship, Book-keeping, Commercial Arithmetic, Political Economy.

SPRING TERM.—Business Practice, International Law, English Analysis.

Short-hand and Type-writing are taught as extra branches. Students completing either or both of these studies will receive a certificate of the work done.

All persons who satisfactorily complete the course in Book-keeping will receive a certificate, properly signed, and those who complete the Full Commercial Course will be entitled to a diploma, with the degree of Master of Accounts.

MUSICAL CONSERVATORY.

J. G. EVANS, D. D., LL. D., PRESIDENT.

MISS BERTHA DRAYER, DIRECTOR.

GENERAL STATEMENT.

Excellent facilities are provided for the study of both vocal and instrumental music. This department is under the charge of an experienced director, of superior qualifications, and the advantages afforded are unsurpassed. The director, with the aid of assistants and pupils, gives concerts and recitals during the year. Pupils of any age and of any degree of advancement are admitted, and are accurately classified according to their proficiency.

COURSE OF STUDY.

This embraces instruction in Piano-Forte, Organ, Guitar, Cornet, Violin, Voice Culture, Solo Singing and Chorus Work. The course covers three years, and pupils who successfully complete the course, in any of these branches, together with two years of Harmony, will be awarded a Diploma. Pupils having a previous knowledge of music can finish in less time.

METHOD OF INSTRUCTION.

Instruction will be given in classes as well as individually. The class system has been adopted by all the leading Conservatories of the world. Classes formed in Piano, Organ, Guitar and other instrumental music are limited to two pupils each, while classes in Voice Culture may contain four. Classes in Notation and Chorus Work organized every term. No student can graduate with less than three terms' chorus.

PIANO-FORTE.

The following course is used according to the requirements of the pupil:

- Notation, general principles of phrasing, etc.
- Analysis of Rhythmic Forms.
- Reading at sight.
- Plaidy's Technical Studies.
- Loeschorn's Op. 65, 66, 67 and 84.
- Harmony and Thorough Bass.

Heller's introduction to the Art of Phrasing.
Czerney's Etudes de la Velocite, Op. 299.
Mendelssohn's Songs Without Words.
Heller's Art of Phrasing.
Cramer's Studies, (Von Bulow's edition).
Hummel's Sonatas, (selected).
Beethoven's Sonatas, (selected).

ORGAN.

Careful attention is given this instrument, especially to the playing of church music.

Combination and Use of Stops.
Harmony and Thorough Bass.
Preludes, Interludes, Improvising.
Mendelssohn's Songs Without Words.
Bach's Fugues.
Selections from the best composers.

VOICE CULTURE.

The pure "Italian Method" is used. Special attention is given to breathing, formation of tones, placing the voice, solo singing, etc. Following is an outline of the course of study in this department:

Breathing.
Sequences.
Oral Exercises.
Scales and Intervals.
Emerson Vocal Studies.
Vaccari's Metodo Practice.
Concone's 25 Lessons Op. 10.
Bonaldi's Vocalizations.
Panzeron.
Ballads, English, German and Italian Songs.
Church Music.
Chorus Singing.

HARMONY AND COMPOSITION.

No one can claim rank as a musician without a thorough knowledge of Harmony. The study of this branch is recommended to all students in music, and will be required of all who complete any one of the courses taught. The course requires two years.

GUITAR, VIOLIN AND CORNET.

These instruments are taught by able and experienced teachers, and students may feel assured of receiving the very best of instruction in this department.

PIANO PRACTICE.

Pupils desiring to practice at the College can rent use of piano for a small sum.

EXPENSES.

Reasonable rates will be made for instruction on violin, cornet and other small instruments.

All tuition payable strictly in advance, to the Financial Secretary of the College.

Lessons lost will not be made up unless for sickness continuing longer than one week.

SUMMER NORMAL--1891.

A Summer Normal will be held in Hedding College, beginning July 6th and closing August 14th, 1891. This Normal School will be conducted by members of Hedding College Faculty. Central Illinois affords no more pleasant place than Hedding College, with its commodious buildings and beautiful campus, for a summer normal. The instruction will certainly be equal to that given in any other institute in the State. The expenses are as low as possible with good accommodations, and all teachers, persons expecting to become teachers, and any others who may be interested in the line of work proposed, are cordially and earnestly invited to enter the Summer Normal at Hedding College, July 6th, 1891. A further announcement will be made.

GRAND AND UPRIGHT PIANOS.

Remarkable Purity and Refinement of Tone.

Unusual Delicacy of Touch and Action.

Great Capacity for Remaining in Tune.

— Endorsed by such Leading Musicians and Artists as —

W. H. SHERWOOD, W. S. B. MATTHEWS, W. C. E. SEFBOECK, ROBERT GOLDBECK, S. B. MILLS, DR. WM. MASON,
ANGELO DEPROSSE, JULIUS EICHBERG.

The improved method of fastening strings of Pianos invented by us is one of the most important improvements ever made, making the instrument more richly musical in tone, more durable, and less liable to get out of tune.

CABINET ORGANS.

WITHOUT A RIVAL.

Organs made by this Company are those which have made American Organs famous all over the world, and they are the ONLY American Organs which have ever obtained the highest award at any European World's Exhibition.

MASON & HAMLIN LISZT ORGANS.

We earnestly invite all musicians who yet retain any prejudice against Reed Organs to take the earliest opportunity to test one of these LISZT ORGANS. They will then agree with the very distinguished XAVER SCHARWENKA, of Berlin, that "these Mason & Hamlin Organs are THE MOST EXCELLENT INSTRUMENTS I KNOW OF," and that "NO OTHER INSTRUMENT SO ENRAPTURES THE PLAYER."

Both the Mason & Hamlin Organs and Pianos excel chiefly in that which is the chief excellence in any musical instrument, quality of tone. Other things, though important, are much less so than this. An instrument with unmusical tones cannot be good.

PIANOS AND ORGANS SOLD FOR CASH OR ON EASY PAYMENTS.
